A School for Children
Caring, Sharing and Learning Together
Ready, Respectful, Safe

Our school vision

Caring, sharing and learning together
Ready, Respectful, Safe

'To provide a safe, caring and stimulating environment where each child will recognise and achieve their full potential, so that they can make their best contribution to society'.

At King's Court First School we aim to provide every child with the best possible academic, social and moral education. Our school's ethos is based on care and consideration, encouraging respect for the beliefs, feelings and needs of others. We will provide an environment in which all children are happy and can develop self-awareness and a sense of responsibility, enabling them to respond with informed judgement to the challenges they meet.

Objective:

To develop SMSC across the curriculum; ensuring that King's Court children leave school well equipped for life in multicultural, multi faith, Modern Britain so they can make the best contribution to society.

In doing this we will:

- Provide for each child a range of learning opportunities which collectively embrace our vision of SMSC
- Ensure children have fun and enjoy learning
- Enable each child the opportunity to develop an understanding of their own personal and social identity
- Encourage children to develop an appreciation of the many cultures within our society and school community
- Create a 'safe place' for children to explore spiritual, social, moral and cultural issues and develop reflective thinking
